Delhi Public School
Gurugram I Sector 67A
Nurturing the Whole Child

Winter Holiday Project
Grade IX
Chapters: Natural Vegetation & Wildlife and
Forest Society & Colonialism

Theme: Forests – Past, Present & Future

Description:
Forests are essential to sustaining life on Earth. They support biodiversity, provide habitat to wildlife, and have traditionally been a source of livelihood for tribal and forest communities. During British colonial rule, forests were heavily exploited for commercial purposes, leading to strict forest laws and resistance movements by local communities. Today, increasing deforestation and endangered species highlight the urgent need for conservation.
This project aims to help students understand the ecological, historical, and social significance of forests, the impact of colonial forest policies, and the importance of protecting natural vegetation and wildlife for a sustainable future.

Project Task

Create a Digital Magazine on the theme "Forests – Past, Present & Future" integrating both chapters.

Guidelines on Magazine Content

1. Cover Page – Title, Name, Class
2. Introduction – Importance of forests (80–100 words)
3. Natural Vegetation of India
    - Types with images & short description
    - Map showing vegetation distribution in India
4. Wildlife & Conservation
    - 4 endangered species with images
    - Conservation programmes (Project Tiger, wildlife sanctuaries, national parks)
5. Forest Society & Colonialism

    - Colonial forest laws (1878, 1927)
    - Impact on tribals & pastoralists
    - Resistance movements (e.g., Bastar / Java)
6. Conclusion
    - Steps to conserve forests today (80–100 words)
7. Bibliography

Submission Format

- PDF / Google Slides / Canva digital magazine
- Maximum 10–12 pages
- Submission deadline: 8th January, 2026
- To be shared on the following e-mail id's-sheenam.kohli@dpsgurugram.com sushmeet.singh@dpsgurugram.com