

0%

of Turtles species will have disappeared when temperatures rise by 1.2°C

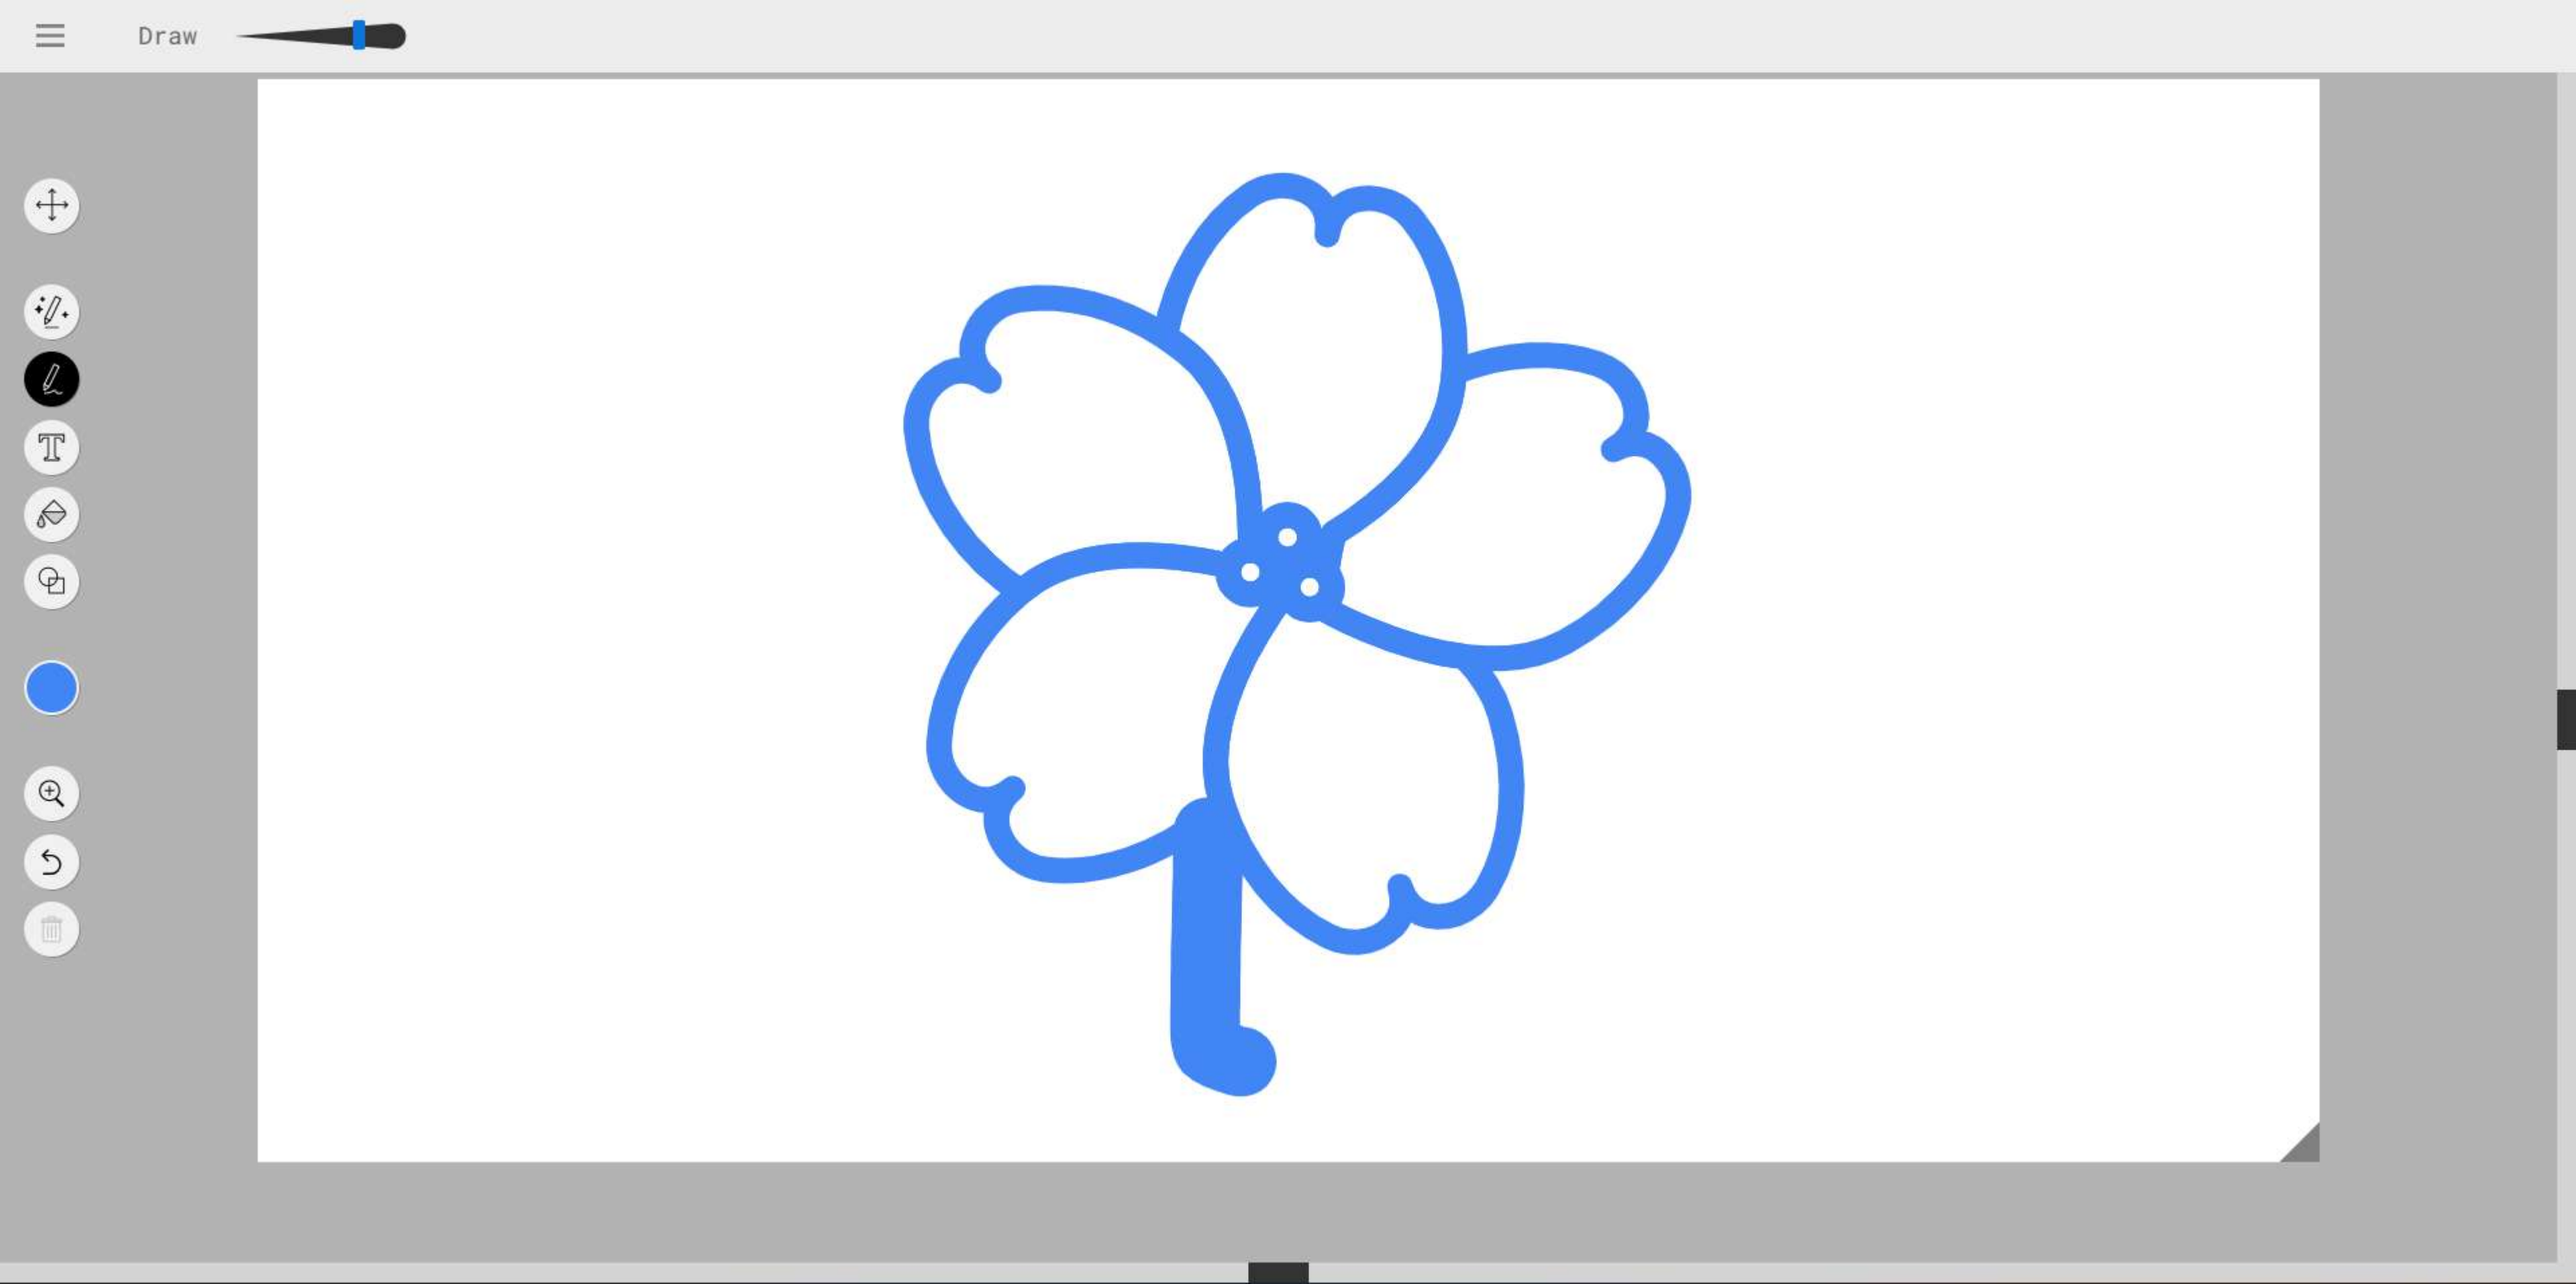

Reptiles are ectotherm animals. They are highly sensitive to temperature change. They require stable ambient temperatures to maintain critical physiological processes.

+5.0 °C

SPECULATIVE

CURRENT DATA

+1.2 °C

Draw